

General Terms and Conditions of Sale - NMH GmbH

§1 Scope

These Sales Conditions apply to all companies, legal entities under public law and special funds under public law.

Our deliveries and services are provided solely on the basis of the conditions hereinafter.

These Sales Conditions apply exclusively. Deviating or unfavourable, supplementary conditions of the Contractual Partner will not form part of the Contract, even where we do not expressly object to inclusion of such conditions.

§2 Offer and conclusion of the Contract

2.1. Our offers are subject to change and non-binding, unless we have expressly designated them as binding in textual form. Declarations of acceptance and orders by the Purchaser shall, insofar as they constitute offers pursuant to § 145 German Civil Code, only become binding by means of our confirmation of order in textual form. We shall endeavour to accept orders by the Purchaser within 5 working days of receipt of the order.

2.2. Documentation pertaining to our offer within the meaning of Article 2.1, such as illustrations, drawings etc. and dimensions and weight specifications contained therein are only approximate, insofar as we have not expressly designated these as binding. The same applies for instructions for use. Tolerances customary in the trade remain reserved within the scope of what is reasonable for the Purchaser.

2.3. We retain ownership and copyright in relation to all documentation provided to the Purchaser in connection with the order being placed, such as, for example, calculations, drawings etc. These documents may not be disclosed to third parties, unless we have issued written consent thereto. Insofar as we fail to accept the Purchaser's offer within the period specified at Article 2.1, such documents must be returned to us immediately.

2.4. Our sales staff is not authorised to make verbal collateral agreements or promises which extend beyond the contents of the written agreement. The Purchaser is responsible for compliance with statutory and regulatory provisions when using our deliveries.

§3 Consultancy and design services

3.1. Consultancy and design services are non-binding, insofar as an order has not yet been placed with us. Plans etc. remain our intellectual property, even after implementation of the order. Illustrations, descriptions, price lists, models, drafts and drawings may neither be copied nor otherwise disclosed to third parties. Further, the Customer may not use these to produce objects or to allow third parties to do so. Where these obligations are not fulfilled, we are entitled to claim damages in the amount of 15% of the net contract value. The assertion of further claims for damages remains unaffected hereby. The Purchaser retains the right to prove that our costs or damages are lower.

3.2 In the event that no Contract comes into effect to provide services on the basis of our consultancy or designs, all design documentation which we have prepared must be returned to us immediately.

§4 Pricing and payment terms

4.1. Unless expressly agreed otherwise, our prices are "ex works" excluding packaging and plus VAT in the currently applicable amount. Packaging costs will be invoiced separately.

4.2. Upon receipt of the order confirmation, 40% of the sales price, which is generally to be paid in EUROS, is due via provision of a bank guarantee. 50% of the sales price is due upon delivery. The last 10% of the sales price will be due following on-site assembly or installation, or at the latest 30 days after delivery.

4.3. Default interest will be calculated at 9% above the basic interest rate of the European Central Bank. Default occurs as defined by § 286 German Civil Code. The right to claim a higher amount of damages caused by default remains reserved.

4.4. In the event that, after the contract is concluded, the net purchase prices to be paid by the contractor for the contractual materials (in particular raw material, purchased parts) should increase by more than 5% percent at the time of their delivery, NMH has the right to recharge the customer the additional price accordingly.

§5 Right of set-off / Right of retention

The Purchaser only has a right of set-off, where its counterclaims are legally binding and undisputed. The Purchaser is only entitled to exercise a right of retention to the extent that its counterclaim derives from the same contractual relationship.

§6 Delivery times

6.1. Delivery times are strictly non-binding and approximate. In the event of uncertainty, the delivery period begins with dispatch of the confirmation of order by us.

6.2. Compliance with delivery times requires timely receipt of all documentation to be provided by the Purchaser, the necessary approvals and clearances, in particular of plans, compliance with the payment terms agreed and fulfilment of other obligations by the Purchaser. Where these preconditions are not met in a timely manner, deadlines will be appropriately extended; this will not apply where the delay is attributable to us.

6.3. Where we are culpable of default in delivery, the Purchaser can – insofar as it can prove that it has incurred resultant loss – demand damages for each complete week of delay of 0.1% of the net price for that part of the delivery which cannot be put into useful operation, up to a maximum, however, of 5%.

6.4. Both damage claims by the Purchaser due to default in delivery and compensation in lieu of performance exceeding the limits specified at Article 6.3 are excluded in all cases of delayed delivery, even after expiry of any delivery deadline set for us. This will not apply in the event of mandatory liability for intent, gross negligence or injury to life, limb or health. The Purchaser may only withdraw from the Contract within the scope of statutory provisions, insofar as the delay to delivery is attributable to us.

6.5. The Purchaser undertakes to notify us, upon our request, within a reasonable period, as to whether it intends to withdraw from the Contract as a result of the delay or continues to require delivery.

6.6. We are entitled to make partial deliveries and deliveries which fall short of or exceed the delivery amount by approximately 10%.

§7 Transfer of risk

7.1. Delivery is "ex works" in accordance with Incoterms 2010, insofar as we have not expressly agreed otherwise with the Purchaser. The risk of accidental loss and accidental deterioration of the items delivered by us passes to the Purchaser upon transfer to, or collection by, the shipping agent, insofar as we have not expressly agreed to ship or install the object of delivery. This also applies where we make partial deliveries.

7.2. For deliveries requiring installation and assembly, the risk passes to the Purchaser on the day of acceptance on the Purchaser's premises, or, if agreed, after a fault-free test operation.

7.3. If dispatch, shipment, commencement or implementation of assembly or installation, acceptance in the Purchaser's facilities or test operation is delayed for reasons attributable to the Purchaser or the Purchaser is in default of acceptance for other reasons, risk transfers to the Purchaser on the date on which default of acceptance begins.

§8 Force majeure

Force majeure, industrial disputes, strikes, riots, official interventions, non-delivery by our suppliers and other unforeseeable, unavoidable and serious events release us, for the duration of the disruption and in the scope of its effects, from our performance obligations. This also applies if these circumstances arise at a time when we are already in default, unless the default was caused intentionally or by gross negligence. We are obliged, as far as is reasonable, to provide the requisite information without delay and to adapt our obligations to the changed circumstances in good faith.

§9 Retention of title

9.1. We retain title to the delivered items until complete settlement of all our claims arising under the Supply Contract. This will also apply for all future deliveries, even if we do not constantly and expressly refer to this fact. We are entitled to take back goods, if the Purchaser acts in violation of the contract.

9.2. The Purchaser is obliged, as long as title has not yet been transferred to it, to handle the goods with care, being obliged, in particular, to insure these goods, at its own expense, against theft, fire and water damage at a level sufficient to cover their original value. As long as title has not yet transferred, the Purchaser must inform us immediately if the objects delivered are seized or exposed to any interference by third parties. Where the third party is not able to pay the judicial and extra-judicial costs of our complaint under § 771 German Code of Civil Procedure or other costs necessary for prosecution, the Purchaser shall be liable for the resultant loss incurred by us.

9.3. The Purchaser is entitled to resell the goods subject to retention of title in the normal course of business. The claims of the customer from the resale of the goods subject to retention of title are thereby assigned to us in the amount of the agreed final invoice amount (including VAT). This assignment will apply, irrespective of whether or not the goods are resold without or subsequent to processing. The Purchaser remains entitled to collect the receivables even after the assignment. Our power to collect the receivables remains unaffected thereby. However, we will not collect the receivables, so long as the Purchaser continues to meet its payment obligations from the proceeds collected, does not enter into default of payment and, in particular, is not the subject of an application for the initiation of insolvency proceedings and has not suspended payments.

9.4. The supplied goods (goods subject to retention of title) remain in our property until full payment of all receivables has been completed.

9.5. Handling, processing or remodelling of the goods by the Purchaser is always effected on our behalf and at our behest. In this case, the expectant right of the Purchaser to the goods continues for the remodelled goods. Insofar as the goods are processed with other objects that do not belong to us, we will acquire co-ownership of the new item at the ratio of the objective value of our goods to the other processed objects at the time of processing. The same applies in the event of combination. Insofar as combination is effected in such a manner that the Purchaser's item is considered to be the principal item, it is agreed that the Purchaser shall only assign proportionate co-ownership and shall hold the resultant sole title or joint title for us. To safeguard our claims against the Purchaser, the Purchaser shall also assign to us such claims that accrue to it against third parties as a result of combination of the goods subject to retention of title with real property; we hereby accept such assignment.

9.6. We undertake to release securities available to us, upon the Purchaser's request, to the extent that their value exceeds the value of the claims being secured by more than 20%.

§10 Warranty

10.1. The Purchaser is obliged to meet its obligation to inspect and submit complaints in compliance with § 377 German Commercial Code as a pre-requisite for making any claim on the basis of defects. Here, it must examine the delivery immediately or, at the latest, one week from receipt, for any d

10.2. Claims for defects become time-barred after 12 months following delivery of the goods supplied by us.

10.3. The condition of the goods is defined exclusively by the agreed technical delivery specifications. In the event that we are to make deliveries in accordance with drawings, specifications, models etc. of the Purchaser, the latter bears the risk of suitability for the intended purpose. The point in time at which risk is transferred in accordance with Article 7 is decisive in determining whether the condition of the goods complies with the contract.

10.4. Where acceptance of the goods or a first-sample test is agreed, objection to defects is excluded, where these could have been identified by the Purchaser in the event of a more thorough acceptance or first-sample test.

10.5. For material defects caused by unsuitable or improper use, defective installation or commissioning by the Purchaser or a third party, fair wear and tear, incorrect dimensioning (insofar as we were not responsible for producing the parts), defective or improper handling such as by overheating, dry operation, extreme soiling, use of the incorrect lubricant, we will not be liable, nor for the consequences of improper modifications and modifications made without our consent or maintenance work carried out by the Purchaser or third parties. The same applies for wear and defects which reduce the value or suitability of the item to an insignificant extent.

10.6. We must be provided with an opportunity to establish defects reported. Upon our request, rejected goods should be sent back to us in sufficient quantities for examination; we will cover the shipping costs where reported defects are proven to be justified. Where necessary, the Purchaser will take an active part in investigations, and, where required, making special test facilities and opportunities for testing available for no charge. The Contractual Partners will inform each other of the results.

If the Purchaser fails to fulfil these obligations or makes modifications to goods that have already been rejected without our consent, its claims for defects will become void. In the case of justified, timely notification of defects, we will, at our discretion, repair the rejected goods or deliver defect-free replacements. Where we fail to meet these obligations or fail to meet them in a contractually-compliant way within an appropriate period, the Purchaser can set a final deadline in writing, by which we must fulfil our obligations. After unsuccessful expiry of this deadline, the Purchaser can request a reduction of the purchase price, withdraw from the Contract or carry out the necessary repairs itself or contract a third party to do so, at our expense and risk. Reimbursement of costs is excluded, insofar as expenses increase due to the fact that the goods are taken to another location after our delivery, unless this is in conformity with the intended use of the goods. We will make special arrangements with regard to the assessment and apportioning of costs for the Purchaser's expenditure as a result of material defects, and such arrangements must be based on the Purchaser's actual share of the costs and the appropriateness of the expenditure and a review of the reimbursement claimed by the Purchaser which we will carry out.

§11 Other claims / Liability

11.1. Our liability for damages, on any legal ground whatsoever, in particular, due to impossibility, delay, defective or incorrect delivery, breach of contract, breach of obligations during contractual negotiations and liability in tort, is limited.

11.2. We are not liable in the event of simple negligence by our institutions, legal representatives, employees and other vicarious agents, insofar as there is no breach of fundamental contractual obligations. Fundamental contractual obligations are those of timely delivery, delivery of the object of delivery, its freedom from defects, which impair its functional capability or serviceability to a significant extent, and advisory, protective and custodial obligations which are considered to enable the Purchaser to use the object of delivery in conformity with the Contract or obligations protecting the life and limb of the Purchaser's personnel or which are intended to protect the Purchaser's property from significant damage.

11.3. Our liability is limited to damages which we foresaw upon conclusion of the Contract as a possible consequence of a breach of contractual obligations, or which we should have foreseen in applying due care. Indirect damages and consequential damages, which are the consequence of defects in the object of delivery are, furthermore, only eligible for compensation insofar as such damages are typically to be expected when the object of delivery is used in accordance with its intended purpose.

11.4. In every case, our liability is limited to the respective sum insured under our product liability insurance, even where there is a breach of fundamental contractual obligations.

§12 Confidentiality

Each Contractual Partner shall use all documentation (e.g. designs, drawings, models, data etc.) and knowledge, which it obtains under this business relationship, only for the agreed joint purposes and shall keep such documentation and knowledge secret, using the same care as it does for its own analogous documentation and knowledge, where the other Contractual Partner identifies such documentation and knowledge as confidential or has an obvious interest in maintaining its secrecy. The obligation does not apply for documentation and knowledge that is generally known or was already known upon its receipt by the Contractual Partner, without the latter then being bound by non-disclosure obligations.

§13 Court of jurisdiction / Choice of law

13.1. The law of the Federal Republic of Germany shall apply to the exclusion of conflict-of-law rules and the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG).

13.2. Insofar as the Purchaser is a merchant, a legal entity under public law or special fund under public law, the place of jurisdiction for all disputes arising from the contractual relationship shall be our business headquarters. We are also entitled to initiate claims at the Purchaser's registered office.
